U.S. ASKS 'SPEED' ON COURT RULING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government urged the Supreme Court today to speed up action on an injunction to send the striking steelworkers back to work, but the union said a delay would not "irreparably damage" the nation.

The Justice Department asked the court to set up a timetable requiring the union to file by noon Thursday its appeal against a back-to-work order or lose the six-day stay set by an appeals court.

THE UNION, IN a counter brief, declared readiness to file a petition for review of the case by Friday morning but opposed any speed up that would interfere with the six-day stay.

In the midst of the legal maneuvering, President Eisenhower again urged that steel management and union continue with utmost efforts to settle their dispute by negotiation. He told his news conference that the national benefits of full employment and production should override any selfish interest of both sides.

Western Mexico Hit by Cyclone

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A violent cyclone and rain-triggered floods inflicted widespread death and destruction on western Mexico Tuesday night. Authorities said today they feared a major disaster.

The union petition noted that Eisenhower "waited 86 days" before invoking procedures of the Taft-Hartley Law which call for the injunction. It also pointed out that he gave a fact-finding board

Small Tracts Act Check Scheduled

Special to The Desert Sun
Three members of the Public Lands Subcommittee of the House of Representatives will spend three days in the 29th Congressional District next week to gather facts on public land problems "of great significance to residents of Riverside and Imperial Counties," Congressman D. S. Saund announced.

Participating will be Congresswoman Gracie Pfeifer (D-Idaho), subcommittee chairman; Congressman Al Ullman (D-Oregon), and Saund, who is himself a member of the subcommittee, a branch of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

AT 9:30 A.M. ON November 4, the subcommittee will hold a public hearing in Riverside City Hall on an Administration proposal to allow the U.S. Bureau of Land Management to sell vital public lands for urban and industrial development.

The subcommittee will spend the night of Nov. 4 and all day Nov. 5 in the Palm Springs area, Saund said.

touring desert land areas which come under the Desert Land Act and the Small Tracts Act.

More desert land areas will be visited when the legislators drive to Blythe on Nov. 6 for a noon luncheon with the board of directors of Palo Verde Irrigation District. In the afternoon they will tour areas along the Colorado River which are occupied by "unauthorized" settlers.

MRS. PFISTER AND Congresswoman Saund will participate in a public hearing on the "unauthorized" settler problems in Phoenix, Ariz., on Nov. 7.

Saund said that large areas in Riverside and Imperial Counties would be affected by the proposal to dispose of public land suitable for urban and industrial use. He urged city and county officials to attend the Riverside hearing.

In visiting desert land areas, the subcommittee will have in mind "serious abuses on the part of speculators and unscrupulous land 'locators' under the Desert Land Act and Small Tracts Act."

Village Attorney Vows Court Battle Against City Professional Licenses

Board Covers Four Articles At Meeting

A section by section hearing on the proposed new county subdivision ordinance was held this week by the Board of Supervisors, and adjourned until next Monday, Nov. 2, at 10 a.m.

Most changes made were rewording for clarification suggested by Earl Roberts of Pioneer Title Company. An exception to this was the increase of minimum lot depths to two and one-half times the width. Minimum lot size remains at 7,200 square feet. This change also was proposed by Roberts.

THE FIRST FOUR articles of the 12-article ordinance were covered at the hearing. Much of the time was spent in arguing over the definition of a subdivision.

Supervisors Fred McCall and William Jones expressed dissatisfaction with the definition as it is written. Supervisors George Berkley and Paul Anderson both favored leaving it intact, and Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain said he was undecided.

At Detroit, General Motors laid off another 11,000 workers today because of steel shortages, thus boosting the total number of idled auto workers to more than 125,000.

And in New York, consumers will feel the pinch of the nation's longest and most costly steel strike this fall and winter in the form of shortages of most cars, refrigerators and other durable goods, Iron Age magazine said today.

"This doesn't exclude Record Survey developments," said Berkey, "except for less than nine acres. It expands the scope of a subdivision."

The controversial Land Divisions section of the ordinance has already been deleted.

WEATHER

Desert area forecast:
Clear tonight through Thursday.
Slightly cooler today. Winds 20-30 miles an hour this afternoon north portion. Highs today 74-84 upper valleys, 84-90 lower valleys.

High yesterday was 86, low 37.

U.N. Envoy Warns Martians May Be Ready To Invade

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Don't give up all your armaments, the Portuguese delegate warned the United Nations Tuesday. It may be just what the Martians are waiting for.

Dr. Vasco Viera Gargin told the General Assembly Political Committee about the danger from outer space during a debate on the Soviet plan for "general and complete disarmament."

"It is certainly far-fetched, but perhaps not at all absurd, the way things are moving nowadays on this planet, to imagine a sudden invasion of our earth by aggressive warriors from another celestial body," he said.

Heart Ailment Found to Be Cause of Death

INDIO—An autopsy performed on a transient carnival worker who dropped dead near here Tuesday disclosed a coronary artery insufficiency was the cause of death, the Sheriff's office disclosed today.

Dr. Robert Dexter, county pathologist, and Robert Drake, deputy coroner, made the autopsy and reported that there was no evidence of foul play.

Adolph C. Iverson, who was traveling in a truck with three companions when it broke down, was pronounced dead on arrival at Casita Hospital at 2 a.m., Tuesday.

Drake reported that no relatives have been found for Iverson whose heart failed to pump sufficiently when he stepped from the truck.

Iverson was 44-years-old, a native of South Dakota, and had a Long Beach address which was the carnival's winter quarters. He also had a Chicago address.

Blood Bank Has Poor Showing

A rather poor showing was recorded at the October visit of the Riverside-San Bernardino two-county Blood Bank at Desert Hospital this week. Hospital Administrator Robert Henwood reported.

Only 15 donors appeared and two persons were rejected for medical reasons. Quota for each visit is 25 pints.

Henwood urged Desert area residents to watch for the November bank visit date, and mark it on their calendars as a "must."

READY FOR BATTLE against the city's new business license fee ordinance is Palm Springs Attorney William O. Burt, who claims the provisions of the ordinance are "unconstitutional, unconscionable, unfair and inequitable." Burt said most of the city's lawyers, doctors, architects and engineers have agreed not to pay elevated business fees "until the ordinance is rewritten in Constitutional terms." (Desert Sun Photo)

BOMBER CRASHES IN WOODED AREA

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI)—A sleek, delta-wing B-57 jet bomber crashed and exploded in a wooded area near here Tuesday night. One of the three civilian crewmen aboard was killed.

The batlike Convair plane, the Air Force's fastest and most modern bomber, came in low and exploded near ground level. Then a second, louder explosion, heard for about 30 miles, scattered wreckage over 60 acres, setting trees and grass afire.

It first had been reported that the plane carried a nuclear device but the report later was denied by Convair officials in Dallas.

MRS. EARL RHODES, who was in the Oak Grove school building, said at first she thought the jet had crashed into the building because it shook so badly from the explosion.

Wheeler said the plane, which must be controlled by a complicated hydraulic system because of its great speed, tumbled three times. "When it went over the fourth time, we bailed out," he said.

Eisenhower had a similarly complete physical examination Oct. 3-4, 1958.

THE STRICKEN plane just missed crashing into the Oak Grove school building where 12 adults were meeting. An eyewitness said it "looked like a comet" — then it exploded.

All three Convair crewmen parachuted from the plane from an altitude of 25,000 feet. One, Harry N. Blosser, 35, Lake Worth, Tex., was found dead early today near the crash scene. Pilot Everett L. Wheeler, 41, Fort Worth, Tex., was taken to a hospital with a broken arm. Michael F. Keeler, 41, Fort Worth, apparently was not injured.

BLOSSER WAS found still strapped in his ejection seat about three miles from where the plane crashed. His parachute had not opened.

This is the second time in recent weeks that a plane has crashed in the area.

As it stands today, the ordinance provides a graduated scale of fees, ranging from the $100 assessment per individual for small offices to a high of $250 per office for firms with 11 to 14 professional staff members.

BURT SAID he will remain adamant on his decision to fight the ordinance even if the new amendment is approved because "the entire ordinance must be rewritten."

The attorney particularly attacked the penal provisions of the ordinance, which, he claims, are so severe that he will ask the council to chart a course of action.

Ike to Undergo Annual Physical

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House announced today that President Eisenhower will enter Walter Reed Army Medical Center possibly later this week for his annual physical "head to toe" check-up.

Eisenhower had a similarly complete physical examination Oct. 3-4, 1958.

CALLAS STANDS UP MISSOURI GOVERNOR AT COCKTAIL PARTY

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Temperamental prima donna Maria Callas stood up the governor of Missouri and 750 leading citizens of Kansas Tuesday night when she failed to appear at an elaborate reception held in her honor.

A string quartet played Strauss waltzes as the formally attired guests sipped champagne and waited.

Newsmen and photographers herded into a special room and ordered to stay there, also waited in vain.

Finally, a telephone call from Miss Callas' manager informed Gov. James T. Blair Jr. and the apprehensive group that the singer would be unable to appear.

PIONEERS IN THE aircraft industry have been named for honoring in the past — with Henderson this year's selection.

The plaque will be given in recognition of Henderson's being managing director of the National Air Races for a 12-year period between World War I and World War II, and for his having directed an Aircraft Saloon at Madison Square Garden, an International Aircraft Exposition at the St. Louis Arena, and the Aviation Program for the Chicago World's Fair.

DURING THE early years of conducting the National Air Races, Henderson originated and secured sponsors for two annual racing events which are acknowledged to be the International Transcontinental and Closed Circuit Air Race Classics:

The annual Transcontinental Free for All Bendix Race, first sponsored by the late Vincent Bendix and sponsorship continued by the Bendix Corporation.

—THOMPSON TROPHY Race—Free for All Closed Circuit Classic, first sponsored by the late Charles E. Thompson and sponsorship continued by Thompson Products Company.

In naming Henderson recipient of the honor, the Air Service Post of New York said that events directed by Henderson "inspired public confidence in the aircraft industry and helped and contributed to the bare existence of the aircraft industry during the depression years."

ELKS CIRCUS PROMOTER Al Charles and Palm Springs Elks Club representative Dan Flax present Don Klotzbecher, managing editor of the B.P.O.E. Lodge 1905 and will be held Nov. 7 at daily Desert Sun with free tickets for Desert Sun the Palm Springs Polo Grounds.

Burt Says He'll 'Happily' Go To Court Against Ordinance

A new legal battle that may lead the city into State Supreme Court loomed today as Palm Springs Attorney William O. Burt said he will happily pioneer a test case against the city's new business license fee ordinance.

Burt, who claims the ordinance is "unconstitutional, unconscionable, unfair and inequitable," said he is willing to fight the ordinance at the same courts in which the city dropped more than $5,000 in an unsuccessful defense of its Right-to-Work law.

The attorney said he plans to contest the license ordinance regardless of the outcome of tonight's City Council action on a proposed "compromise" amendment to the ordinance.

But, apparently voicing the reaction of scores of Village professional men, he will contest the license fee ordinance regardless of the City Council's action tonight on a proposed amendment to the ordinance.

"We think we run a pretty fine grade of government at City Hall and we do not expect to have our efforts labeled "unconstitutional, unconscionable, unfair and inequitable," Bunker wrote.

"Most city attorneys agree with me that the Supreme Court of this state is greatly confused and the matter will be straightened out in any cases going to the Supreme Court," Bunker added.

BURT CHALLENGED the city attorney's line of reasoning, which, he said, indicates that "you are quite sure that both the United States Supreme Court and the founding fathers who wrote the Constitution are also greatly confused."

"I heartily agree with you that a state of great confusion exists," Bunker replied, "my only point of disagreement is as to the location of the center of the area of confusion."

BURT SAID HE would go as far as he has to seek revision of an ordinance he claims is "confiscatory."

"If we don't take a stand against blatantly unconstitutional laws, we will end up, in effect, with no Constitution," Burt said today.

The decision to go to court, however, rests with the City Council. Bunker today said that if the city's attorneys and doctors refuse to pay the license fees he will ask the council to chart a course of action.

Religious Film to Be Shown Here

'Martin Luther'
Scheduled at Our Saviour's

The feature length motion picture, "Martin Luther," will be shown three times at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, 1020 East Ramon Road, this weekend.

Showings are scheduled for Saturday, 7:30 p.m.; Sunday 3:30 p.m.; and Monday 7:30 p.m. The public is invited. There will be no admission charge.

THESE SHOWINGS are part of the local Lutheran celebration of Reformation Day, Oct. 31, 1517, which marks the beginning of the Protestant Reformation.

"Martin Luther" was filmed by Louis de Rochemont Associates, chief producer of documentary films, in 1953. It was voted by the press as among the "10 Best Films of the Year."

OUR SAVIOUR'S Church is happy to present a motion picture of such wide interest to the community," commented Rev. Walter H. Reuning, pastor of the church.

"There are few eras in human history that compare with the Protestant Reformation in dramatic intensity. This spiritual revolution changed the world irreversibly. A motion picture on Martin Luther and the Reformation was inevitable."

VELVEL, LAYNE GLAD TO BE BACK

A week ago Rickie Layne and Velvel were shivering in the 25-degree weather of Montreal.

Yesterday they squinted at the blazing desert sun, wiped their respective brows and allowed that it was "great to be back" in Palm Springs.

IT'S NOT LIKE they just drove up. Rickie and his hard-headed little partner have "worked" the Village many times since their initial stint at the Del Tahquitz Hotel back in 1946.

"Velvel likes it out here," Rickie said in a poolside interview prior to racing off to the Chi Chi where the ventriloquist and his dummy are co-billed.

"In the east he warps," Rickie said, pulling Velvel onto his knee, "out here he gets back in shape."

DON'T YOU THINK," Velvel cut in, in dialect, "that you should maybe paint me a little darker now we're in Palm Springs? I got a lousy tan."

"We'll talk about it later," Rickie said, lifting Velvel off his knee and into the suitcase especially fitted for him.

With Velvel out of earshot, Rickie shrugged his shoulders.

"He's a smart alec kid," he said.

Clarke to Inspect Sand ...And the Romantic Illusion?

A lecture-portrait of one of the most delightful feminine enigmas of modern times" will be presented by John Robert Clarke when he speaks on "The Light for George Sand's Cigar" at 8 p.m. tonight in the main lounge of the Desert Inn.

The portrayal of George Sand's life and ideas in terms of today's uses will be the third in the current "Adventures in Living Discussion Teasers," a public series on the art of exploring what author-lecturer Clarke calls "yesterday's truths" and today's consequences."

CLARKE WILL SIFT among fact and legend to inquire how much romantic illusion figured in George Sand's fame, and how much her ideas hold for persons today.

Jan De Swart To Have Exhibit In High Desert

TWENTYNINE PALMS — Jan De Swart will have an exhibition of sculpture at the Twentynine Palms Art Gallery starting Saturday, Nov. 7, and continuing through Nov. 20.

A reception for the artist will be held at 8 p.m. the first night at the Gallery, 73-959 Cottonwood Avenue. All Guild members and the public are invited.

De Swart, who was born in Holland, designs principally in plaster, but some of his forms make use of wood, concrete and metal. He has done a great deal of basic research in design and the techniques and properties of new materials, and his approach is scientific as well as poetic.

Gallery hours are 2 to 4 p.m. on Monday, Thursday and Friday, and from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Presley Ups Hospital Calls

FRANKFORT, Germany — ~~773~~ Elvis Presley will be released from an Army hospital "within three or four days" a spokesman said today, much to the delight of hospital switchboard operators.

Most of them have come from Germany and neighboring countries but fans in Turkey, London, New York, and Denver have called long distance to check on their ailing idol.

None has talked to Presley, though.

"SO I SENT Velvel's suit out to be cleaned and pressed and the first thing I know here's this house detective and the manager and a bouncer in my room telling me 'Alright, we know you got a kid in here. Where is he?' and I had a real job convincing them that my dummy was the only little kid in the room.

"It had to be a dummy's choice.

"All they'd had to do was look at the jacket. It's got a hole in the back where I put my hand to operate him." — G. L.

Clarke, "is the fact that Sand is far more stimulating than her life, her Trousered conquest of Europe, her letters and memoirs, which she tossed off in the throes of the romantic movement.

The loveable George, who was adored by the greatest personalites of her age, is worth rescuing from behind the facade of her weepy and pasteurized novels. We are apt to forget that in her day thousands of persons were weeping fashionably through the drawing rooms of Europe, on a theory of Rousseau's that tears were a healthy sign of naturalness and virtue. If you didn't weep well publicly as well as in print, you couldn't expect to get ahead."

THE ADVENTURES in Living series, presented in San Diego each week as well as locally, features

"Most obscured in our day."

Clarke will sift among fact and legend to inquire how much romantic illusion figured in

George Sand's fame, and how much her ideas hold for persons

'Expose' Slated For Santa Claus

NEW YORK — FLASH: Truth-loving, sham-hating CBS President Frank Stanton's planning a Christmas Eve spectacular for the kiddies. On the show, Santa's false beard'll be ripped off, the pillows will be pulled out from his tummy, and the kiddies will see that he's really their father. They'll also be told that it was a big, carefully-rehearsed lie about the reindeer being red-nosed; it was their daddy who had the red bezer, due to a little office cocktail party.

(By the way, that's supposed to be a joke due to Dr. Stanton's big cleanup campaign.)

Another Flash: Sam Levenson just phoned that he's certain one contestant wasn't given any answers: Randolph Churchill.

Some of my best friends are quizmasters — and I never thought of them being "lame-brains."

So if I were Jack Barry, Hal March, George de Witt, Bert Parks, Bob Paige, Jack Narz, Ralph Story, Warren Hull, Bill Leyden or Johnny Carson, I'd be miffed about a novel called "Hot Half Hour" which says that the ideal quizmaster is a "nice-looking, lovable young shmoop . . . no brain . . . but not really a jerk."

Who, in an emergency, could say "something clever like 'Hi ya, everybody!'"

The author of the book, Robert L. Foreman, is vice president of B.B.D.O. ad agency, which formerly served the sponsors of the two $64,000 shows — and a blurb says "It's all here — the business about controlling the answers and everything."

The Shmoop in the book is "Bunny Lewis, ex-hoof and funny man," who'd worked in burlesque in Union City, N.J. Published last year, the book says the owners of the quiz show "had as complete control over the results as does the director of a dramatic show."

Quizmaster George de Witt says the author must have flipped his wig; what'll she call herself? Gypsy Rose? . . . Wasn't that Henry and Clare Boothe Luce at "The Miracle Worker"? (Yup.) . . . Doesn't Kathryn Grayson look even more like a chifioner with the top drawer pulled out than Marilyn Monroe and won't the coyotes in Australia howl when she goes there on tour? (Uh huh.) . . . How come Joyce Mathews, the ex-Mrs. Billy Rose, got tired of Switzerland and moved to Paris? (Search me.) . . . What did Baby Pignatari say at El Morocco when they asked him his girl's name? # PUC Hearing Bids Public Opinions of Valley Citizenry Sought

INDIO—Telephone subscribers of the Coachella Valley Telephone Company will be given opportunities to voice opinions on an application filed by the company with the California Utilities Commission for a rate increase when the PUC holds hearings Nov. 4, 5 and 6 in the Elks Club in Indio.

Approximately $194,000 a year represents the total yearly figure of the proposed rate increase.

COMMISSIONER PETER E. MITCHELL and Examiner Stewart C. Warner will preside at 9:30 a.m. each day of the hearings.

During the three-day session, Commission staff engineers and accountants will present the results of their independent investigation of the company's operations and finances.

Company officials presented their evidence in support of the application at the initial hearings in Indio last Sept. 1, 2 and 3.

PUC OFFICIALS disclosed that the company said the increase is necessary to offset higher operating costs.

Besides asking other higher charges, the firm seeks an increase in single-party residence rates from $4 to $5.60; two-party from $3.50 to $4.60 and four-party from $3 to $4 a month.

UNDER THE PROPOSAL, business one-party lines would be raised from $5.50 to $12.50 a month; two-party from $5.25 to $9.80 and four-party lines from $4.75 to $7.25 a month.

The firm serves approximately 7,800 subscribers in Coachella, Eagle Mountain, Indio, La Quinta, Mecca, Oasis, Palm Desert, Thermal and Thousand Palms, all in Riverside County—and Desert Shores and Salton City in Imperial County.

The world's population has now, according to most recent figures, passed the 2.8 billion mark. At this current rate of growth, it is estimated that there are 100,000 new mouths to feed every day. To inform the ever growing market of the latest food specials in this country, grocery advertisers invest over $148 million in daily newspaper advertising.

"There is a sweeping trend toward principles of the Republican party in all parts of the United States, and this resurgence of conservative thinking is most pronounced in Riverside County and the 29th congressional district," Darling said.

RIVERSIDE—A revitalized, confident Republican party will take the field in the 1960 elections in Riverside County.

That was the prediction today by Dick Darling of Riverside, newly elected chairman of the Riverside County Republican Central Committee.

THE LOCAL REALTOR, active in party circles several years, succeeds Atty. Lee Badger who resigned the chairmanship due to press of legal business.

Moore said the Russians had completed two phases of their four-part program with Lunik II which hit the moon and Lunik III which photographed it.

Lunik IV will carry instruments to the moon and then, he said, will come the great adventure of trying to land a man on the moon.

"The REPUBLICAN party will make significant gains in the 1960 election, electing not only the man who will occupy the White House but also winning new strength in state governments.

Darling said.

BLACKIE, A SPIRITED, but irascible cocker spaniel owned by Frank (Chico) Sanchez, of 52-493 Ensenada, La Quinta, does tricks for his food as Sanchez's daughter, Ann, 11, feeds him, and son, Tommy, six, feeds cats. Recently dog fought off pack of ravenous coyotes in rear yard of Sanchez home with the result that The Sun's story on the matter went nationwide and President Eisenhower sent a letter to Sanchez commending the valiant action of the dog. Timeliness of the dog is depicted in the fact that he often dines with the natural foe of the canine world, cats. (Desert Sun Photo)

IKE PRAISES DOG FOR HEROIC ACT

LA QUINTA — There will be no unsung heroes of the canine world if President Eisenhower has anything to do with it.

Through the Assistant to the President, Wilton B. Persons, White House, Washington, D.C., Frank (Chico) Sanchez of 52-493 Ensenada St., La Quinta, has received a letter in which Eisenhower expresses sympathy for the injuries the Sanchez's dog "Blackie" received in warding off ravenous coyotes in the rear yard of the Sanchez home early this month.

THE LETTER READS:
Dear Mr. Sanchez: The President has asked me to thank you for your recent letter, with the enclosed clipping. He appreciates your friendliness in writing and is especially grateful for your cordial greetings.

"However, the President was sorry to learn that Blackie, your little boy's brave dog was so seriously hurt in fighting off coyotes. He certainly hopes that Blackie recovered from his injuries."

"WITH THE President's best wishes to you and Tommy, sincerely yours, Wilton B. Persons." Blackie has nearly recovered from the wounds inflicted by the coyotes, but the genial dog today still wears a wide scar on his back where a coyote tore away the fur to the skin.

Just returned a few days ago from a long sojourn in an animal hospital, Blackie still stands guard around the Sanchez children as he did the night the coyotes attacked.

Shower Fêtes Mrs. Abdelnoor

By JEAN PATANE

Mrs. John (Darith Ann) Abdelnoor was guest of honor at a luncheon "Baby Shower" last week at Howard Manor, co-hosted by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mike Abdelnoor, and Mrs. John Parks, residents of Palm Terrace. The center-piece table decoration was a smoke tree topped with a baby rattle, and hanging from the branches were miniature cherubs tied with pink and blue ribbons. Baby dolls in tiny wrapping blankets marked the places. In attendance were Mrs. George Ellis of Banning; Mrs. Richard Heller from San Diego, Mrs. Gene Shaffer of Beaumont, Mrs. Carl Emerson of Sunair, Mesdames Lester True, Charles Ellis, Kim Preston and Mrs. James Armstrong of Coachella.

Enjoying a desert weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hollister were her sister and family from West Covina, Mr. and Mrs. John Howell and children, Royann, Jack, Mike and Terry.

Guests at Sunair Terrace for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Glen B. Gossett from West Covina, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glegorn of Hollywood, Mrs. C. F. Wege and Mrs. Helen B. Schneider from Huntington Park, Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Wolven of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Forbes from Orange, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bryan from Laguna Beach, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Drake of Monrovia, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. King from Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Barhite from Pasadena.

Here for the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bedford were their son, Johnny, and his wife, Mrs. Barbara Bedford.

Mrs. Merrill Brown and Mrs. Marie Swab of Sahara Park had spent a few days last week in San Diego on combined business and pleasure trip.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Wagner (Jewel Trailers of El Monte) entertained 72 guests for cocktails and hors d'oeuvres at their Melrose Drive home preceding dinner at Lauray's Steak Ranch. Among those enjoying the annual affair during the Trailer Rally were the "Jewel Gypsies," owners of Jewel Trailers, dealers and members of the press and their families.

Desert Weed Show Slated

Listed by All-Year Club for November

November in Southern California brings a colorful variety of unusual parades duplicated nowhere else in the U. S., plus probably the only "Weed Show" anywhere in the country — Nov. 14 and 15 at Twenty-nine Palms.

For the 17th year residents of the High Desert will compete in beautiful arrangements of desert growths, desert purple glass and desert gem stones.

ON THE PARADE side, there will be two events of all bands, the Mother Goose parade of animated floats, the Santa Claus Lane parade of stars, and the Moby Dick parade of offshore whales.

The parades and other unusual events of the area are publicized throughout the nation by the All-Year Club in its work of attracting out-of-state tourists who spend over one-half billion dollars here each year.

LONG BEACH holds its famous All-Western Band Review Nov. 28, a musical procession of 65 top high school bands, some 5,000 musicians in bright uniforms, each playing its own concert, starting at noon and taking four hours to pass along Ocean Boulevard.

Thirty high school bands, drill teams and majorette units, some 3,500 students, march and compete for prizes in a colorful Band Review beneath glittering Christmas decorations at West Arcadia, starting at 10 a.m. on Nov. 21.

ONE OF THE most unusual parades is the Mother Goose Parade of animated floats, held strictly for children at 2 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 22, at El Cajon near San Diego. Loudspeakers urge the more than 300,000 spectators to look behind for a child and put him in the front row.

Over 100 stars including Robert Wagner, Natalie Wood and Jeff Chandler will ride in the parade opening Hollywood Boulevard as Santa Claus Lane, when the lights flash bright on the huge metal Christmas trees, at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 25.

THE MOBY DICK parade begins about Nov. 1 and lasts into February. This is a procession of some 3,000 California Grey Whales migrating from the Arctic to southern breeding waters. The whales, 35 to 40 feet long and passing at the rate of about 30 a day, come close to shore at two good watching spots. One is Marineland of the Pacific at Palos Verdes and the other is the Whale Watching Station at Point Loma, San Diego.

Traditionally quiet and retiring newspapermen, never heard, seen only in print, will have their day at the Great Western Livestock Show in Los Angeles, Nov. 20-25. They will engage in a hog-calling contest with TV stars. There will be a multi-million dollar exhibit of fat cattle, swine and sheep; an RCA rodeo Saturday and Sunday afternoons and a calf scramble for youngsters.

RANCHO MIRAGE

Viola Darnall Ends Voyage

By JEAN PATANE

Viola Darnall returned to her Rancho Mirage home last week after an absence of two months and with the memory of a most interesting South Pacific cruise.

After leaving Port of Los Angeles on the USS Monterey with her friend, Mrs. Ethel Ledford, the first port of call was Papeete in the Tahitian Islands, where they spent the first day touring the island. The next day a schooner took them to the Island of Moorea, 12 miles across the channel from Papeete. This pictureque island of steep mountains and tropical vegetation was the inspiration for the fictional island of Bali Hi in James Michener's "Tales Of The South Pacific."

Mr. and Mrs. Noel R. Long of Corona are spending a few weeks at the Montesanto Apartments. Here for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lemaster of Torrance.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Altshuler of New York City, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Karpel of Sherman Oaks, who enjoyed an extended weekend, and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Berg of Arcadia.

Among the weekend guests at Whispering Waters Hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Altshuler of New York City, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Karpel of Sherman Oaks, who enjoyed an extended weekend, and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Berg of Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Spiegelman hosted dinner at the Dunes honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ed Downs of Blythe, who were in Rancho Mirage for the weekend. Among the guests were Mrs. Spiegelman's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Broady of Beverly Hills, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Franks of Palm Springs. They also entertained their guests at the Desert Club in La Quinta.

Another bus ride took them to Waimono and the famous "Glow Worm Grotto," the only one of its kind in the world. They must be observed in darkness and silence, as the slightest disturbance causes them to extinguish their lights. According to Mrs. Darnall, it was a most fantastic and fascinating sight.

The city of Sidney, Australia, followed and then to Fiji where the policemen are so proud of their uniforms and their native hairdos and Suva, the capital, where there were many shoe stores but the natives were all barefooted, and wearing the same natural hairdos.

Samoa was the last port of call before leaving for Honolulu where they bid adieu to their fellow voyagers on the Monterey and visited with friends in Hawaii for nine days before flying to the mainland, and on to the palm tree lined Highway 111 and Rancho Mirage.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Singer returned Sunday night from a weekend in Glendora at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grove. They went to attend a Glendora Bantam Football Conference game in which their grandson, Mike, played. He is on the Air Tornado team. Mr. Grove, who is active in youth affairs, is president of the Bantam Conference.

Among the guests at the Casablanca for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Downs of Blythe, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Green and son, Jonas, of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Shelly and children from San Pedro, and Mr. and Mrs. John Magrana and daughter, Joan, of Pasadena.

Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. John Vale entertained friends they met on their Hawaiian vacation.

CONGRESSMAN D. S. SAUND reported on his activities in the 86th Congress at a Palm Springs Kiwanis Club luncheon today. The Congressman from the 29th Congressional District offered his commendation to Village civic leaders and members of the Agua Caliente Indian Tribe for their "invaluable" cooperation in drafting and securing passage of the resort's Indian Land Bill and its 99-year lease provisions. #### Babin Attended Hospital Meet

By ELLEN SAUNDERS

Cliff Babin, Realtor and member of the board of directors of the Desert Hospital, returned on Friday from a four day meeting of the California District Hospital Convention at the Hotel Alwahnee in Yosemite.

The convention was held in conjunction with the California Hospital Association, and discussion centered around current state legislation as it affects hospital administration. Mrs. Babin accompanied her husband.

Mrs. Al Johnson spent Thursday and Friday in Corona as the guest of the Clyde Bramptons.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. LeGros of Compton just finished one of their frequent weekend visits at the Sand and Sage Motel. The Compton couple, who have been spending here twice a month, are planning to become property owners in the near future.

Mrs. Nellie Earhart who underwent major surgery at the Desert Hospital on Friday is making a good recovery.

Don and Ethola Hulbert have sold their ranch "Breezy Acres" and have leased the Carr home on Acorn for the next few months. They are currently working on plans for a new home which they will build in the Highlands. The new owners of "Breezy Acres" are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Peterson of Chula Vista. The Petersen's son and daughter-in-law and their two children will occupy the ranch with them.

Mrs. Bob Wertz is spending the next few weeks in Los Angeles where she is awaiting a visit from the stork.

Not every eight year old has both a grandmother and a great grandmother to help celebrate her birthday. But that's what happened to Melinda Murchall of Tuskin on Monday.

Melinda is the granddaughter of the John Youngs of this community.

When Mrs. Young returned recently from an extended visit to the East Coast she was accompanied by Melinda's great-grandmother, Mrs. Eleanor D. S. Young and her cousin, Mrs. Hattie Haney of Ocean Grove, N.J. Both ladies will spend several weeks here. Beside helping to celebrate Melinda's birthday, the trio attended the local Toastmistress Club Founders' Day luncheon at the Shadow Mountain Club on Saturday.

Nate Bertram is home again from the Desert Hospital where he recently underwent surgery. The Bertrams have their plans almost completed for the motel which they will start building after the first of the year.

Cries of happy birthday awaited Mrs. Rose Smilne as she walked into the patio of the Smile Inn Hotel last Wednesday. Her guests had planned the surprise party, complete with cake and presents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Waller, former well known residents of this town, motored up from Pasadena to spend the weekend with friends. They were accompanied by Mr. Waller's sister, Mrs. Olive Armstrong of Vancouver, B.C., who is on her initial visit to this country. She has spent the last five weeks touring California with the Wallers.

Earlier in the summer Mrs. Waller took a 17-day boat and plane trip to Alaska. Highlights included visits to the Mendenhall Glacier, McKinley Park and a two day bus ride over the Alaskan Highway to Whitehorse. While in Fairbanks Mrs. Waller met Loreen Knudsen, the ten year old news girl who writes a weekly letter for the Los Angeles Times.

Guests at the Oscar Worschaw home this week include Mr. and Mrs. Art Graff of Houston, Tex., and Mr. Graff's 86-year-old mother, also Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cohn and Mrs. Chile Friedman of Los Angeles. The Cohns, who are well known throughout the Los Angeles area for their work in behalf of the City of Hope, visit here frequently to enjoy the hot mineral baths.

Mrs. Chris Daniels of Davis is spending two weeks here as the houseguest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mooney.

The Andrew De Vores of Hollywood arrived on Monday to spend the winter at the Smoke Tree Trailer Park. De Vore, who is employed as a prop man on TV's Gunsmoke series, will commute here over the weekends.

Mrs. J. C. McGee entertained at a family breakfast on Sunday in honor of her daughter and son-in-law, the Owen Comptons of Canoga Park. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moore and son, Jimmy Bruce, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tarbutton and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kline and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Fozier flew in from Detroit on Monday for a week's stay at El Reposo Motel. Both families enjoy their frequent visits to the desert so much that they are considering selling their export business and settling here permanently.

Third annual Junior Tennis Clinics will start Saturday, October 21, at 9 a.m. on six high school tennis courts, Dave Gillam, Racquet Club net pro and instructor of the junior classes, said today.

The Clinics are sponsored by the City Recreation Department, The Desert Sun and various local service clubs.

All youngsters in the Unified School District between the ages of 9 and 14 are eligible to participate, Gillam said.

Inter-city matches with a similar clinic in Redlands are being planned, a Palm Springs Junior tennis league is in the making and a city-wide Junior Tennis Championship tournament will be held later in the season.

FREE TENNIS racquets and trophies will be awarded as achievement prizes for the most improved players during the five months the Clinics will be held.

Gillam will be assisted as in the first two years, by the Recreation Department and local tennis enthusiasts.

BARSTOW YOUTH IS FATALLY INJURED IN GRID PRACTICE

BARSTOW (UPI) — A brain hemorrhage suffered during football practice caused the death of a Barstow High School boy, coroner's deputies reported today.

Raymond S. Ramos, 16, died Monday after suffering the injury in a scrimmage. He was practicing with the "B" team at the time.

The Clinics are sponsored by the City Recreation Department, The Desert Sun and various local service clubs.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — There will be no pro football war in Los Angeles if Frank Leahy, general manager of the local entry in the new American Football League, has any say about it.

Leahy's first public act as general manager of the Los Angeles Chargers, new name of Barron Hilton's entry in the AFL, was to extend the pipe of peace to the Rams, the National Football League club in Los Angeles.

"Competition with the Rams will always be on a friendly and honorable basis," Leahy told a press luncheon in Beverly Hills Tuesday. "The Chargers' management feels it owes a debt of gratitude to the pioneers and plans to keep this fastest growing spectator sport on the high plane it enjoys today."

The former Notre Dame football coach said prior to his departure Tuesday night for a league meeting in New York City that the Los Angeles club had not decided on a coach since Eddie Erdelatz turned down the job a few weeks ago.

TELEVISION HOLIDAY BOWL NEW YORK (UPI) — The third annual Holiday Bowl football game, pitting the two top teams of the National Association of Inter-Collegiate Athletics (NAIA), will be televised (CBS) from St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 19.

SUGAR BEGINS TRAINING NEW YORK (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, recovered from his bout with the flu, begins training Monday for defense of his middleweight title against Paul Fender at Boston, Dec. 14.

THE EXECUTIVE director would say only that a football basis.

Arizona State Hit By NCAA Ruling

BOSTON (UPI) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association's all-powerful 18-man council Tuesday night rapped the knuckles of two member colleges and hinted that other reprimands may be issued today.

Executive Director Walter Byers, acting as spokesman for the group, Tuesday night announced that the Arizona State University at Tempe and the University of Mississippi, one of the nation's leading elevens, were penalized for violating football recruiting practices sanctioned by the NCAA.

ARIZONA WAS HIT with the stiffest reprimand — a two-year probation period, the first year of which the school will be barred from participation in NCAA programs. This includes athletic events, radio and television programs sponsored by or connected with the NCAA.

MISSISSIPPI, with an unbeaten football team this season, received a one year probation term but the penalty will not bar the team from participation in post-season bowl games or any other activities, according to Byers.

Though Byers would not say if other disciplinary actions would be taken today, there were indications of some additional penalties forthcoming against other schools.

THE EXECUTIVE director would say only that a football basis.

luncheon schedule for today "we may have another announcement or two to make." There was an original list of 19 charges against various schools.

At the same time Arizona State and Mississippi were being reprimanded, Byers announced that the University of Cincinnati which had been placed on probation at the last meeting of the council in New Orleans last April, has been restored to good standing.

Sanders Leading In Sahara Golf

Princess to Be Guest at WAIF Imperial Ball

Seventeen-year-old Princess Marie Cecile of Prussia will be the Royal guest of honor at the 1959 Imperial Ball here. She will be accompanied by her parents, Prince Louis Ferdinand, head of The House of Hohenzollern, and his Princess, the Grand Duchess Kira of Russia, it was announced today by Actress Jane Russell of the WAIF Division of International Social Service.

Give Poolside Fashion Show for Visitors

Among the many festivities attendant on the Trailer Convention was a fashion show poolside at Crest View Hotel.

The beautiful patio and pool area was the setting for the festive luncheon hosted by Warner Electric Brake and Clutch Company and Hadco Engineering Co.

The hostesses were Mrs. Ed Scott and Mrs. Warner Hamelin, and Mrs. Harry Kettlerman. Approximately 30 ladies, wives of some of the most prominent men in the trailer manufacturing industry, attended the affair. Mrs. John O'Connor, of the Trailer Coach Association in Los Angeles, Mrs. James Brunsell and Mrs. Jerry Weis of Kenskill Trailer Mfg. Co., Mrs. Bernie Miller of Zieman Trailer Mfg. and many others.

Miss Jeni Wormser, fashion consultant for the J. W. Robinson store, gave a lecture and fashion show of desert ladies' wear and accessories.

The buffet luncheon was catered by Santos and the ladies in lovely pastel shades of so many colors, were presented with beautiful corsages to add to the day's festivities. Everyone agreed it was one of the most enjoyable parties under the sun.

The annual Imperial-WAIF Ball this year will be given in the famed Cocoanut Grove at the Ambassador Hotel on November 7. One of Los Angeles' outstanding social functions, the event raised more than $55,000 last year, under the sponsorship of the Imperial Division of the Chrysler Corporation.

The Princess is an extremely pretty, brown-eyed blonde, who is an accomplished pianist, likes classical and modern music and favors American movies and records. A direct descendant of Queen Victoria, her maternal grandfather was Grand Duke Vladimir, the son of Emperor Alexander II of Russia.

The imperial visitors are of equal royal lineage to Queen Frederika of Greece, last year's guest of honor at the Imperial Ball. In fact, Prince Louis Ferdinand is a cousin of Queen Frederika.

From Bremen - Borgfeld, Germany where the Princess lives with her mother and father, the 17-year-old girl telephoned that she is as excited as any young girl could be about being chosen guest of honor for a colorful Ball in Hollywood attended by civic and society leaders and world famous motion picture stars.

Responsible for placing more than 7,000 homeless children since its founding in Hollywood in 1953 when Miss Russell learned that no such agency existed, chapters have now been established in cities throughout the country, New York, Palm Springs, Dallas, Chicago and Hawaii.

Officers of the WAIF organizations and receptions for their guests, particularly a program which will give the young Princess a thrilling impression of Los Angeles and her citizens, hundreds of whom hope to greet her when she arrives by SAS plane at International Airport at 11:15 a.m. Thursday, November 5.

"Countries fall in one of two categories-those with too many orphans, and those with too few for the number of people who want to adopt," she said. "England and Scandinavia now have a shortage of adoptable kids."

"This year most of our children are coming from Germany, Greece, Italy, Korea and Japan. It changes from year to year."

"Two things we always do, place children with people of their own religion, and keep brothers and sisters together. Several times we've placed families of four youngsters with new parents."

Jane went on to say her organization has more parents lined up in this country than it can supply with children.

"We don't need more parents," she said. "We need money to bring the youngsters over here. And that's why we're putting on the Imperial Ball at $100 per person."

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Motherhood and Jane Russell seem to go together about as well as Liz Taylor and Debbie Reynolds—but beneath the sex goddess veneer buxom Jane is something of a mother to 7000 youngsters.

As president of WAIF, an international organization for homeless children, Jane has placed some 7000 orphans with adoptive parents.

This week the blonde screen siren put the finishing touches to the biggest project of her life, the fifth annual WAIF ball Nov. 7, to raise more than $50,000 for the organization.

Jane began the WAIF nine years ago when she encountered difficulties adopting a child of her own. She went to England and brought home with her a wriggly little guy named Tom. Since then she has adopted two more children. And if things work out, she hopes to bring home a fourth.

"I just put two and two together," Jane said. "There were thousands of couples in this country who wanted children, and thousands of children in Europe who needed parents. It was that simple."

"Working through International Social Service, Inc., Jane and WAIF have invaded 72 countries finding orphans for adoption.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Motherhood and Jane Russell seem to go together about as well as Liz Taylor and Debbie Reynolds—but beneath the sex goddess veneer buxom Jane is something of a mother to 7000 youngsters.

As president of WAIF, an international organization for homeless children, Jane has placed some 7000 orphans with adoptive parents.

This week the blonde screen siren put the finishing touches to the biggest project of her life, the fifth annual WAIF ball Nov. 7, to raise more than $50,000 for the organization.

Jane began the WAIF nine years ago when she encountered difficulties adopting a child of her own. She went to England and brought home with her a wriggly little guy named Tom. Since then she has adopted two more children. And if things work out, she hopes to bring home a fourth.

"I just put two and two together," Jane said. "There were thousands of couples in this country who wanted children, and thousands of children in Europe who needed parents. It was that simple."

"Working through International Social Service, Inc., Jane and WAIF have invaded 72 countries finding orphans for adoption.

"Countries fall in one of two categories-those with too many orphans, and those with too few for the number of people who want to adopt," she said. "England and Scandinavia now have a shortage of adoptable kids."

"This year most of our children are coming from Germany, Greece, Italy, Korea and Japan. It changes from year to year."

"Two things we always do, place children with people of their own religion, and keep brothers and sisters together. Several times we've placed families of four youngsters with new parents."

Jane went on to say her organization has more parents lined up in this country than it can supply with children.

"We don't need more parents," she said. "We need money to bring the youngsters over here. And that's why we're putting on the Imperial Ball at $100 per person."

The Chrysler Corp. helps us raise the money to finance our adoptions, and this year to keep the international flavor we've invited Princess Marie Cecile of Prussia to be the royal guest of honor. Last year Queen Frederika of Greece was present and helped bring in $55,000.

"To me this work is far more fulfilling than acting. And in its own way, more exciting."

Yerxa Tells Calico Tour

500-Mile Journey Proves Interesting

EDITOR'S NOTE: Cabot Yerxa, resident in this area since 1913 and builder of Cabot's Old Indian Pueblo in Desert Hot Springs — one of the top tourist attractions for many years — has just returned from another 500 mile trip over the Mojave Desert to the area of Calico. Below he tells of his experiences:

By CABOT YERXA

The journey was made in a half ton pick-up truck, with camp equipment. The roads or lack of them would make it impossible for a boulevard auto.

A companion and I had a map of the area. We went from water hole to water hole as marked on the map, but in many instances found no water.

Pumps were broken down, windmills blown over, or wells caved in — so if you contemplate trips of this kind out into the open desert, be sure to carry sufficient water, because you cannot depend on finding water as marked on a map.

We VISITED the Old Wanderer Gold Mine which was deserted and no water. Next, a talcum powder mine, abandoned, with many thousand pounds of talcum powder laying on the ground near the open shaft. This was in chunks of 10 to 30 pounds in weight. But no water. Halloran Spring was also found after trial and error of unmarked turns in sandy roads, but it likewise yielded no water. And so it went for three days.

A couple of days were spent in Mule Canyon, the source of vast quantities of borax, made famous by the Twenty Mule Teams which transported this material over the deserts to railroad loading points. Hundreds of acres in this now deserted canyon have high cliffs of very colorful rocks or clay — they are red, high yellow, strong greens, vivid purple, black, and some verging into blues.

THESE STRONG individual col- ors and all the shades in between greet your eyes wherever you look. It is a fantastic place. This must have been a volcano at some time, or a group of several close together.

One day was spent at the Ghost Town of Calico, which had mines that produced $6 million dollars of silver from 1881 to 1896.

The real purpose of the trip was to find the famous old Toltec turquoise mine. This we found, after many miles of sandy roads, often mere trails, winding up and down over hills, in a barren desert country.

THIS MINE WAS opened by Indians, using primitive hand tools, who came up from Old Mexico about 150 years ago. Much turquoise was transported back to Mexico on burros at that time. But warlike Indians descended upon them from the north and all these early workers were killed, and the mine was abandoned.

In the early nineteen hundreds, the famous jewelry firm of Tiffany acquired control of the property. They put in a large crew of men who blasted tunnels into the mountain, and dynamited their way down deep shafts into the solid rock, searching out the elusive turquoise veins which yielded the beautiful gem-like material.

ALL THIS WAS shipped to New York and sold to jewelry makers both here and abroad. After the Tiffany men left, the mine was again abandoned, and is a very desolate and lonesome place today. In that part of the desert, there is little vegetation, no trees, no people, no rain, no water, no birds, no sound.

We saw exactly one kit fox, running round through the empty tunnels of the mine. He was searching for something to eat and looked discouraged. His only chance would be to find a trade rat and they would be mighty scarce, as far as we could see.

Many tin cans that lay in a rusty pile at the end of the road, gave evidence of the Tiffany Min-

SWEET OLD LADY GUILTY IN THEFT FROM CHURCH PAL

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An 80-year-old woman convicted of grand theft for bilking a sister churchwoman of $4,700 tried today to make good her promise to return the money.

Mrs. Mae Johansen Monday was granted a week's continuance of sentencing after she promised to repay the money.

Mrs. Johansen used the $4,700 to send her playboy son, Raymond W. Clawson, 52, to Mexico. Clawson was arrested Aug. 22 upon his return to Los Angeles for a 1953 income tax evasion. He now is serving a one-year sentence in the county jail.

Dreyfus Aboard U.S. Destroyer

Lowell J. Dreyfus, sonarman seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Dreyfus, 1480 North Indian Avenue, was aboard the destroyer leader USS John S. McCain which last Thursday delivered $5,000 worth of antibiotics and other drugs to Indian health authorities at Calcutta, India, for the relief of West Bengal flood victims.

The crew also donated 3,500 pounds of foodstuffs from its galley for the flood survivors.

ers camp. From this spot, we had to leave the car and walk up three steep ridges in the mountains to find the turquoise mine. And so we left the mine and started home again. We hope the fox seemed something to eat. And our advice to you is to carry plenty of water when you leave the highways in a desert country.

But it said there had been "no evidence submitted by the government of Cuba that the aircraft in question was armed, dropped bombs, or strafed during its flight over Cuba."

The statement was issued after State Department Spokesman Lincoln White said officials were "carefully studying" the implications made by Castro in his anti-United States speech in Havana Monday.

THE U.S. ALSO expressed serious concern over what it said seemed to be "deliberate and concerted efforts in Cuba to replace the traditional friendship between the Cuban and American people with distrust and hostility."

The U.S. government's views were expressed to Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos by U.S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal. The gist of his remarks was released to the press in Washington.

THE AMERICAN statement acknowledged there was evidence of an unarmed aircraft flying from U.S. territory had carried out a

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes wrong.

Our Desert Painters

Arrival of an annual observance which each year is becoming of greater interest and importance to Palm Springs and nearby communities is now only a few days away.

The occasion is National Art Week which opens on Sunday, Nov. 1.

While there are a number of fields of creative, cultural, skilled design, execution, achievement and expression included in the recognized Arts, a number of which are well represented locally, the largest group by far in the desert area is that of the desert painters.

From a meager beginning a number of years ago when some of the artists who won immortal fame for their fine oils first turned to painting the beauties of desert landscapes, the local Art Colony has steadily increased each year until it is now one of the largest and most productive on the West Coast.

Today professional artists have established homes here in number and scores of amateurs are on their way upward towards recognition for the excellence of their portrayals. That the great majority follow the school of realism in presenting desert scenes and subjects in their natural beauty is an important factor in furthering the widespread appeal which this particular part of the desert holds for the public.

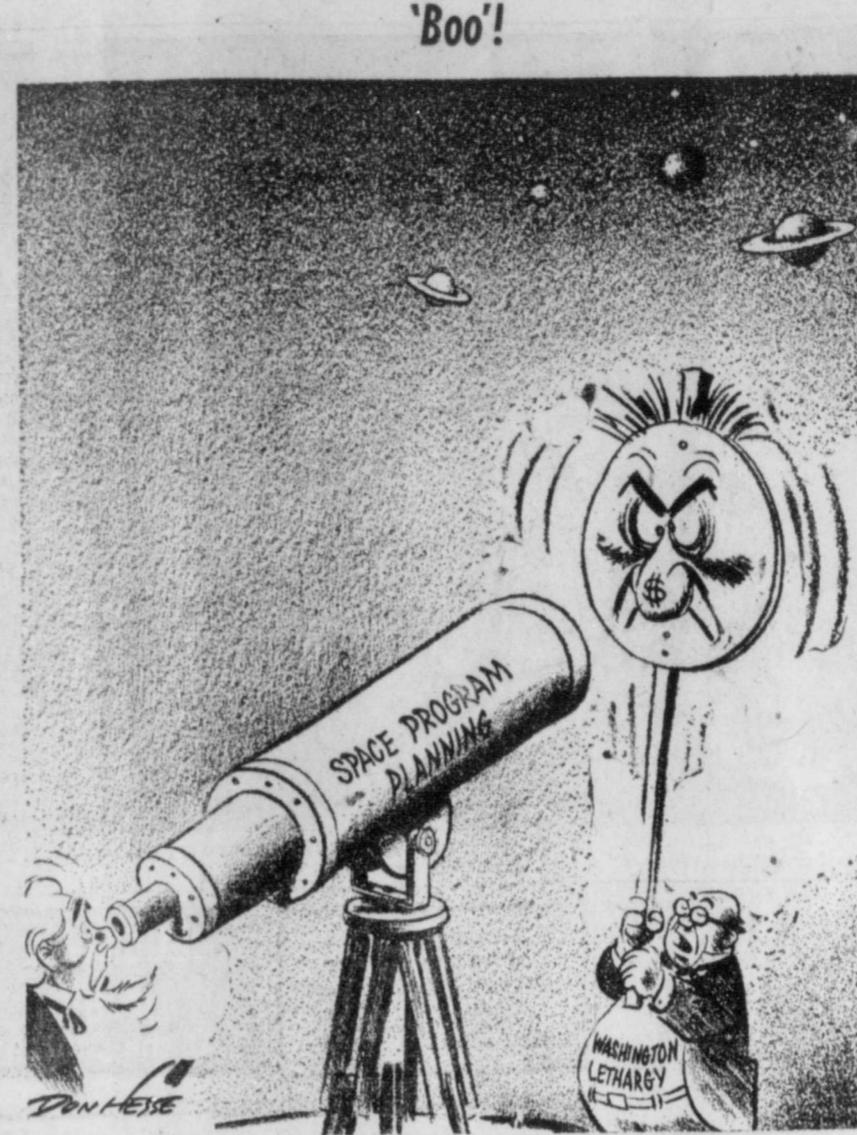

Presently there are four galleries featuring oil paintings open to the public in the area, in addition to a number of places of business displaying local desert scenes and several studios containing the work of the individual artist. In addition, local artists next week will present a display on the grounds of the Desert Inn.

In Palm Springs the Desert Art Center, located in the Plaza, has a large and varied showing representative of its more than 300 members. In Palm Desert the spacious gallery of the Desert Magazine consistently shows a wide selection of desert paintings by artists of the Southwest. In Rancho Mirage the Herb Pfeffer Gallery next to the post office contains an outstanding display of fine art in addition to local landscapes. The Suntown Patio Gallery located in the center of Cathedral City is the scene of numerous "one man shows" with John Hilton, well known local artist being featured currently.

Thus the people of the Desert Empire have an excellent opportunity during National Art Week to view a combined display of desert and other paintings unequaled in any similar area, and at the same time to show their support and appreciation to the local Art Colony by their attendance.

In a community which so many artists call "home" and where Art has become one of its leading vocations and of considerable value commercially, it is fitting that particular attention be accorded during National Art Week, and, also that residents continue their cooperation during the year, particularly in calling the attention of visitors to the galleries as points of special interest.

Palm Springs is proud to list Art as one of its leading "fun in the sun industries," having the virtues of being smogless, noiseless and above all a creative and cultural attraction of outstanding appeal and pleasure to residents and visitors alike.

Horses in the Show Ring

WASHINGTON, D.C. — If Democratic candidates were to show horses, there would be a class designated as Qualified Liberals, and the leading contenders would be Senators Humphrey, Kennedy and Symington, to give them alphabetical sequence.

All three of these men qualified 100 per cent on the ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) voting records. But this does not mean that Humphrey, Kennedy and Symington, having the same voting records, are identical political animals. Horses in the show ring all have the same number of feet, ears and eyes. How do the judges score the equine contestants? There are criteria known as "style, way of going, conformation and suitability." How to score these prancing politicos?

HUBERT HUMPHREY comes first in political leadership and executive experience. While not "boss" of Minnesota, the Senator heads up a political organization there. It caught the attention and admiration of another Democratic contender, Lyndon Johnson, who went campaigning in Minnesota five years ago, thinking that Humphrey needed some help. Humphrey didn't. He won big.

Humphrey burst into national view, and into mine, at the 1948 Democratic Convention when he electrified the delegates with a Civil Rights speech. It completely reversed the majority of press section predictions. It drove a large band of Southerners into a third party movement. As things turned out, it contributed to Candidate Truman's eventual victory over the pussy-footing Republican candidate.

EVEN IF THIS is overstating Humphrey's leadership, he is still miles ahead of Kennedy and Symington in this quality. Neither of them has any State "machine" and neither has ever come near to leading any such moral crusade. In addition, Humphrey is the only one of these three ever to hold a political executive office, which is what the presidency is. Humphrey was mayor of Minneapolis, and evidently a good one, for he was reelected to the post.

But in another important phase of politics — parliamentary debate — Kennedy scores the most points. Although his detractors speak of Kennedy as being staff-bound (he keeps a regiment of assistants at his elbow, even on the Senate floor), I hold this to be an unjust belittlement.

THE MASSACHUSETTS Senator vowed the Senate last spring in a head-to-head debate with John McClellan of Arkansas. There was talk that Kennedy would pull his punches against this older man, this popular national figure. But Kennedy didn't. He beat McClellan, and beat him fairly. Neither Humphrey (a hyperbolist) nor Symington (a declaimer) can touch Kennedy in a floor debate.

That leaves Symington. He is not a party organizer, or a leader of causes, or a debater, or even much of a public speaker. But he is older than the other two, richer in extra-political experience, much more thoughtful (without being a deep thinker) than Humphrey or Kennedy.

IT MAY BE this quality of experience, for which there is no substitute, that makes it possible to say for Symington what can't be said for Humphrey or Kennedy. Symington knows what's wrong with the country. The country doesn't lack for welfare (as Humphrey likes to bewail), and it doesn't lack for abstract liberalism (which is what Kennedy's appeal adds up to), but it does lack for the canny knack of making a business hum.

The present steel strike will furnish an example. Were Humphrey or Kennedy in the White House, they would presumably come out for more welfare and liberalism for the Steelworkers, throwing the presidential weight to the side of Labor.

But Symington, despite his ADA record, would not see it from that viewpoint. He would be — and is — concerned with the loss of millions of tons of steel and millions of dollars in buying power.

SYMINGTON'S formula for the steel strike settlement, if I understand him, would begin with the certain knowledge that one of the disputants (Labor) did not want this long strike. Thus Symington in the White House, I am sure, would throw all the weight of that great office upon forcing an early settlement. He would not babbble too much about the cliches of "free" collective bargaining, but he would stress the far greater public interest of steel production.

The country does not lack for "freedom," of which we have an ample amount. But if we lack for steel, if the Labor-Management-Government combine fails in industrial production, then the USA is poor indeed.

And the Qualified Liberal who thinks in these practical terms is the one for my blue ribbon. — Holmes Alexander

Best Part of Story

HOLLYWOOD — The best part of the story about the burglary at high noon of Barbara Nichols' Hollywood apartment never got into the papers. An hour or so after the burglary, Barbara's cleaning woman came in and nonchalantly cleaned up the whole apartment including what Sheriff Pete Pitress wanted most: the burglar's fingerprints!

Actually, the woman couldn't be blamed, even faced by the stuff strewn around by the burglar, because Barbara's always in such a hurry her apartment always looks like a cyclone struck it anyway.

AS I SAID, I hate to burst Dino's pretty publicity bubble but here's one I enjoy bursting. News stories from Hollywood refer to Beverly Andland, the girl who accompanied Errol Flynn on most of his last drinking bouts, as a "Hollywood starlet." She's not. She never made a movie here. Hollywood's having enough troubles without having Beverly too.

There are some other tired old clichés that I wish my reporting conferees would quit using, in favor of fair play if nothing else. Why does that guy arrested for drunk driving on Sunset Boulevard always have to be "a Beverly Hills socialite" instead of what he really is, a social-climbing investment broker who tries to crash Tinseltown's inner circles for the purpose of selling stocks and bonds?

"BEL-AIR SCION" has got to go too. He's usually a Bel-Air SIGN painter.

And easy-way-out tags that should be ashenamed: "retired Brentwood industrialist" for the retired druggist who committed suicide; "Hollywood playboy" for the parking lot attendant named as correspondent in a divorce suit; "studio worker" for the guy caught in a marijuana raid who hasn't set foot inside a studio since he fixed the plumbing in a Paramount powder room 12 years ago; and "former actress" for the dame (same raid) who played a bit part in the original "Ben-Hur" and hasn't worked since!

STEFFI ZIMBALIST bought another horse for the Zimbalist ranch — Sir Signal's his name and his lineage includes the "great Man o' War and Sir Galahad" — and there goes Efrem's dream of buying a 30-foot cabin cruiser!

Speaking of the Sinatra sped (again!), I saw it in the company of Phil Harris and Red Nichols while eating a bowl of Phil's famous spaghetti (his recipe includes a half-pint of whipping cream during the last five minutes of sauce-cooking, "to eliminate the acidity").

ANYWAY, PHIL and Red harmonized all the songs coming out of the viewing box right along with Frankie, Bing, Dino and Mitzi Gaynor. Sounds distracting but wasn't because both are such consummate musicians you'd have thought they attended all the rehearsals with all four stars!

Glenn Ford met a Quizzing just fired by a network for helping to rig one of the quizzers. The guy just got another good job, gags Glenn — the producer of a Western series hired him to write the dialogue for his crooked sheriffs!

Television in Review

'Winterset' Given On Hall of Fame

By FRED DANZIG

United Press International NEW YORK (UPI)—The poetic melodrama of Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset" received a surprisingly faithful reading Monday night as the season premieres of NBC-TV's Hallmark Hall of Fame series.

To find the fire and blood of this 24-year-old drama bouncing along in a TV drama sponsored by greeting cards — where fluffier stories were presented in past seasons — was noteworthy in itself.

ANDERSON'S allegorical "Winterset," of course, is a showcase for the bitter dialogue and cynicism born of a spiritual and economic depression. But it ends in a triumphant bath of newly-discovered love. The going gets sticky at times, but the message is worth it.

Robert Hartung's adaptation remained true to the original, although references to radicals, overtones of political corruption and a sharp discourse of judicial expediency were missing.

STILL, HARTUNG was extremely skillful in his editing and his script was given a mighty assist by the gloomy setting of a New York City bridgehead and the delicate touches of producer-director George Schaefer.

Since Anderson's characters are highly-charged types who synthesized many of their attitudes of their times, I think some of the acting went overboard, especially for the TV tube's intimacy.

Don Murray, as Mio, the revenge-seeking son of an executed man, was generally convincing, but he had trouble pacing his anger in the second act.

MURRAY and the Android, a science fiction drama that gets an NBC-TV Sunday Showcase airing Nov. 8, will star Kevin McCarthy, Rip Torn, Vladimir Sokoloff and Suzanne Pleshette. CBS-TV is expected to alternate hour-long specials with Desilu Playhouse after Jan. 1, when Desilu goes to alternate weeks.

AS MIRIANNE, who brings love to Mio, Piper Laurie was sensible and sensitive, except for an awkward final scene. Charles Bickford was an excellent Judge Gaunt. Martin Balsam and Anatol Winogradoff handled their assignments as the Messrs. Esdras, son and father, with skill.

George C. Scott, the perennial TV villain, was as evil as ever, although he managed to work in a smile now and then. It was more becoming.

The Hall of Fame and its new producer for 1959-60 gave us something different Monday night. And the nice thing about this was — it came off in fine style.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Comedienne Carol Burnett, who made her network TV debut on Garry Moore's daytime show back in 1955, becomes a permanent member of Moore's Tuesday night cast starting Nov. 3.

"George Burns In The Big Time," a nostalgic salute to vaudeville, is an NBC-TV special slated for Tuesday, Nov. 17. George's act will include three newcomers: Jack Benny, Eddie Cantor and George Jessel.

ABC-TV REPORTS that its Friday night detective series starring Robert Taylor scored a 25.7 Tindex, better than the combined ratings of CBS-TV's Twilight Zone and NBC-TV's fight.

"Murder and the Android," a science fiction drama that gets an NBC-TV Sunday Showcase airing Nov. 8, will star Kevin McCarthy, Rip Torn, Vladimir Sokoloff and Suzanne Pleshette. CBS-TV is expected to alternate hour-long specials with Desilu Playhouse after Jan. 1, when Desilu goes to alternate weeks.

Brown Warns Kennedy on Cal Primary

Democratic Party
'United' Behind
Him—Governor

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today again warned that if Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) or any other candidate enters the California primary they will run into a united Democratic party backing Brown.

Asked at his news conference to comment on a report that Kennedy's supporters were urging him to oppose Brown in the California primary next June, Brown replied:

"CALIFORNIA has an open primary and anyone is free to come in that desires. It is a decision that all people who aspire for the great office of President must make for themselves."

"I am referring to any candidate coming in against the united Democratic party of California."

BROWN POINTED out that Sen. Clair Engle, all California congressmen and most other elected California officials "agree that I should be the favorite son. But I haven't made up my mind on even that yet."

As of now, Brown said, California Democrats are in "complete accord that nothing should be done" until late this year when Engle returns from a trip to the Far East.

BROWN ALSO said that if his name is entered in the Oregon primary next May 20 as Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield has indicated, "I'll be in a dilemma."

But he said "I'll meet that issue if they put my name on the ballot—if they ever do."

"Believe me when I tell you I'm not doing a single solitary thing to promote my candidacy even for favorite son," Brown said.

He said it would be "almost impossible" for him to file an affidavit to have his name removed from the Oregon primary. "But I don't have to campaign."

ALCOHOLIC RANKS SHOW INCREASES, SAY WCTU OFFICIAL

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (UPI) — An official of the national Woman's Christian Temperance Union today said unpublished statistics from the federal government show that the number of alcoholics committed to mental wards is increasing by about 10,000 a year.

Mrs. L. G. Rowley of Waters, Mich., vice-president of the WCTU, told a convention of the New York branch that the latest figures, tabulated in 1956, also showed that more than 7,000 persons received permanent brain damage from alcohol.

THE TYPE OF assistance PBX users may expect when they contact Mrs. DeLoach, includes the training of new switchboard operators, improvement of present operating practices, explanation of bills and toll statements, service observing for the purpose of informing PBX customers of the quality of the service they are rendering, and busy studies to determine if their present equipment adequately meets their requirements.

In the case of new PBX installations, the company's PBX Service Advisor may assist in locating the switchboard with regard to best lighting and maximum efficiency.

She will also arrange for proper location of stations and trunks on the board for ease in operating, will make a final check of the switchboard to be sure all designations are correct, and finally upon request—will assist the operator in developing the necessary skill and speed to provide the best possible service.

MRS. DELOACH, formerly with the San Fernando office of the California Water and Telephone Company, is now living in Palm Springs with her eleven year old daughter, Janina.

Her husband, William J. DeLoach, professional photographer with the Los Angeles County Health Department in Health Education, joins them on weekends.

Murder Charge Issued in Death Of Infant Girl

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — A murder complaint was issued today against an ex-convict accused of slaying his 18-month-old stepdaughter and burying the body in the Hollywood Hills.

Chief Deputy District Attorney John W. Loucks issued the complaint which charged Darrel Lee Graham, 27, with killing the girl by throwing her against a wall in the family home here. The body was found last Saturday in a shallow grave.

The victim's mother, Mrs. Harriet Graham, 25, was released Monday by police.

Detectors said a two-day investigation uncovered "no elements" that connected her with the slaying of the infant, Michele Bechtel.

SIERRA PLANT IMPRESSES REDS

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A dozen Russian electric power experts Monday expressed their admiration of the Southern California Edison Co.'s power network in the High Sierra.

The Russians spoke glowingly of the network as they talked with newsmen between planes en route to Denver in an exchange tour of the country.

K. D. LAVRENENKO, first deputy minister of Soviet power station construction, seemed most impressed by the group's visit to Disneyland.

"That's very nice country, very educational, even for children our age," he said.

LAVRENENKO SAID the Edison's Big Creek hydroelectric complex in the Sierra was "a very interesting project, nicely developed from an engineering standpoint, although its various sources are very small."
